

Fred Giles
Agricultural Counselor

Fred Giles joined the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) in 2001 and is currently assigned as Agricultural Counselor in Italy with regional responsibilities for Italy, Greece, Malta, Croatia, Serbia, Albania, Bosnia & Herzegovina, and San Marino.

Prior to arriving in Rome in August 2016, he was FAS's Area Director for Africa and the Middle East with responsibility for all personnel and administrative issues in the region. Abroad, he has served as: Director, Agricultural Trade Office-Sao Paulo; Agricultural Attaché-Riyadh; and Agricultural Attaché-Cairo.

Mr. Giles received his B.A. in Political Science and French from Clemson University in 1988, as well as an M.S. in Agricultural and Applied Economics in 1996. He pioneered an international student exchange program between Clemson and the Ecole Supérieure d'Agricultures in Angers, France where he spent a year studying agricultural markets in 1989.

---

Department of Agriculture (USDA), Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS)

